👤 PROFILE

Enthusiastic front-end developer seeking challenging entry level position where I can learn new skills and further develop my existing knowledge. Experience writing website code with advanced front-end technologies such as HTML, CSS, JavaScript (ES6), React, Node.js, and integrating live API. Utilizing responsive design with tools like Bootstrap, Flexbox, multiple page hosting, and media queries ensuring websites are accessible across many platforms. Managing process with Git and GitHub to create streamlined development workflow. Creative problem solver interested to get exposure on multiple projects, excelling in a collaborative environment.

★ PROJECTS

React Weather App

React, HTML, CSS - React.js application utilizing API technology, that is pulling data from openweathermap.org to provide real-time weather updates of selected city with future forecast. Fetched animated icons via react to replace standard static ones.

Vanilla JS Weather App

JavaScript, HTML, CSS, - I built this Vanilla JavaScript weather app, gaining skills in Bootstrap, API's, real-life development workflow, hosting, and advanced JavaScript. The result was a fully functional weather application with included geolocation for current weather.

Travel Photography Site

HTML, CSS - Created a website to showcase my travel pictures from trips around the world. Utilizing Figma for design, and implementing tools such as Bootstrap, Flexbox, and Navbar to create a responsive static website.
